

When with glory dies the day

Sydney S. Bartlett
(1862-1933)

Sydney Stephen Bartlett (1862-1933) was born in Cardiff, Glamorganshire, Wales. He was a stereo-typer by trade, working at Daniel Owen & Co. in Cardiff. He was an active amateur musician, participating in musical activities and knowledgeable in the Sol-fa method. He died in Bridgend, Wales. He composed a number of part-songs, winning awards at Welsh Eisteddfods.

When with glory dies the day,
And the wind is lulled to sleep,
When the sun's last lingering ray
Gilds the mountain's rugged steep;
While the blue waves of the sea,
With the twilight peace possessed,
Lullaby, lullaby,
Rest, my dear one,
rest, my sweet one,
rest, my loved one,
rest, rest, ah! rest.

When the twilight dies away,
And the darkening shadows creep,
When the moon, with silver ray,
Watches o'er a world asleep;
When the wandering zephyr free
Woos the wild-bird in her nest—
Lullaby, lullaby,
Rest, my dear one,
rest, my sweet one,
rest, my loved one,
rest, rest, ah! rest.

TERMS OF USE

These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:

please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.

please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
