Charles-François Gounod (1818-1893)
lived in England from 1870 to 1874.
Among his activities during that time, he became the first conductor of what is now the Royal Choral Society. Many of his compositions from this time are vocal, although in 1872 he composed the “Funeral March of a Marionette” which became famous as the theme for the television series “Alfred Hitchcock Presents.”

The morn is up, the sun appears,
The grass is wet with heaven's tears,
And shining bells of tambourines
Sparkle bright in the golden beams!
Merrily dance, merrily sing,
Our castanets with gladness ring!

Come, let us lift our tents and roam;
The trees our roof, the woods our home.
In front, our chieftain, eagle eyed,
Thro' woods and heath our steps to guide.
Merrily dance, merrily sing,
Our castanets with gladness ring!

Light, our steps with the spring of health,
Free, our hearts from the care of wealth;
Earth's bright flowers, for a carpet gay,
For gypsy songs, our roundelay.
Merrily dance, merrily sing,
Our castanets with gladness ring!

Our hearts are buoyant, free from strife;
And wild and brave our roving life,
Our laws, we own our chief's decree,
And ever careless, ever gay and free!
Merrily dance, merrily sing,
Our castanets with gladness ring!

TERMS OF USE

These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:

please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.
please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
