

“Shepherds,
tell me”

John B. Grant
(1850-1912)

John Beveridge Grant (1850-1912) was born in Newburgh, Orange County, New York. He worked for the firm of Stewart Good and Co., manufacturers of dresses, NYC, and the Central National Bank of NYC. He was a naturalist and wrote Our common birds and how to know them (1891). He was an active amateur musician. He was organist and choir director at New Jerusalem Church, NYC, and at First Presbyterian Church, New Rochelle, NY. His compositions include a comic opera, several cantatas, anthems, part-songs, and many children's songs including a collection in collaboration with music educator Peter W. Dykema titled Pussy willow: and other nature songs for little folk.

Shepherds tell me have you seen
My Flora pass this way?

A wreath around her head she wore,
Carnation, lily, and the rose;
And in her hand a crook she bore,
And sweets her breath* disclose.

The beauteous wreath that decks her head,
Forms her description true;
Hands lily white, lips crimson red,
And cheeks of rosy hue.

Traditional English song

* more traditional versions of text read "lips" rather than "breath."

 1880 Ditson publication uses "compose" rather than more traditional "disclose."

TERMS OF USE

These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:

- please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.
- please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
