Wilkins, Carter & Co.
(1848)

FAREWELL, farewell to thee, Araby's daughter!
(Thus warbled a Peri beneath the dark sea;)
No pearl ever lay under Oman's green water
More pure in its shell than thy spirit in thee.

Nor shall Iran, beloved of her hero, forget thee—
Though tyrants watch over her tears as they start,
Close, close by the side of that hero she 'il set thee,
Embalmed in the innermost shrine of her heart.

Around thee shall glisten the loveliest amber
That ever the sorrowing sea-bird has wept;
With many a shell, in whose hollow-wreathed chamber,
We, Peris of ocean, by moonlight have slept.

From "The Fire-Worshippers"
Thomas Moore (1779–1852)

George Frederick Kiallmark (1804-1887) was born in Islington, England. His father was the well known composer George Kiallmark (1781-1835). He was educated at Margate and received musical instruction from his father. At age 14, he assisted his father in teaching music. At 16, he went to study in Rouen and Paris. He returned to England and was known as an outstanding pianist, and opened an academy for the study of the piano at his residence. The “Musical Times” notes his appearances as a conductor and performances of his new glees and madrigals in the 1850s. Most of his compositions were for the piano.

TERMS OF USE

These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:

- please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.
- please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
