

Maying We Will Go

Jacob F. King
(1856-1904)

Jacob Franklin King (1856-1904) was born in Wayne County, Ohio, and became well known as a music teacher and publisher. He lived in Orville, Ohio, where he operated a music publishing business. For some time, he lived in Walcottville, Indiana, and operated the business there. He and his wife Eva were active teaching music conventions and singing schools throughout the region. He wrote and compiled singing class books and wrote numerous hymns and songs for the music instruction. He died in Washington, Illinois, after travelling there to conduct a two-week singing school.

Lo! the glad May morn
With her rosy light is breaking
O'er the hill so lovely and fair;
And the pure young buds,
From the dewy sleep awaking,
Mirth and music float in the air.

*Then away, Then away,
And a-Maying we will go!*

O'er the rustic wild
Where the idle winds are blowing,
We will roam with pleasure today;
On the mossy bank,
Where the crystal brook is flowing;
We will crown our Queen of May.

Oh! the glad May morn!
Like a child she comes to meet us,
With her brow all covered with flowers;
And she call the birds,
All the merry birds, to greet us,
And the laughing, bright summer hours.

TERMS OF USE

These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:

- please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.
- please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
