Edwin Theophilus Pound (1833-1919)

was born in Hancock County, Georgia, grew up in Talbot County, and settled in what is now Lamar County. He was a merchant, became a judge, and was on the board of trustees for Gordon Institute. He was founder and editor of the Barnesville Gazette, published a musical journal called "Musical Tidings," and published music books. He was very active as a musician. He was a composer, teacher, and held singing schools. He was a pupil and close associate of B. F. White. He was a part of The Southern Musical Convention and contributor to the second revision of "The Sacred Harp" in 1858-1859. He was eventually president of the association and promoted systems of notation other than the standard 4-note shape system. He wrote or compiled a number of sacred and secular song books and wrote "The Vocal Triad: Embracing Three Systems of Musical Notation." He died in his daughter's home at Shellman, Georgia.

I chatter over stony ways
In little sharps and trebles,
I bubble into eddying bays,
I babble on the pebbles;
With many a curve my banks I fret,
By many a field and fallow,
And many a fairy foreland set
With willow, weed, and mallow.
I chatter, chatter as I flow
To join the brimming river,
For men may come, and men may go,
But I go on forever.

I wind about, and in and out,
With here a blossom sailing,
And here and there a lusty trout,
And here and there, a grayling;
And here and there a foamy flake
Upon me, as I travel,
With many a silvery water break
Above the golden gravel.
I draw them all along, and flow
To join the brimming river,
For men may come, and men may go,
But I go on forever.

I steal by lawns and grassy plots,
I slide by hazel covers,
I move the sweet forget-me-nots
That grow for happy lovers;
I slip, I slide, I gloom, I glance
Among my skimming swallows,
I make the netted sunbeam dance
Against my sandy shallows.
And out and in I curve and flow
To join the brimming river,
For men may come, and men may go,
But I go on forever.

TERMS OF USE

These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:

- please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.
- please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
