

Trip Lightly

Edwin T. Pound
(1833-1919)

Edwin Theophilus Pound (1833-1919) was born in Hancock County, Georgia, grew up in Talbot County, and settled in what is now Lamar County. He was a merchant, became a judge, and was on the board of trustees for Gordon Institute. He was founder and editor of the Barnesville Gazette, published a musical journal called "Musical Tidings," and published music books. He was very active as a musician. He was a composer, teacher, and held singing schools. He was a pupil and close associate of B. F. White. He was a part of The Southern Musical Convention and contributor to the second revision of "The Sacred Harp" in 1858-1859. He was eventually president of the association and promoted systems of notation other than the standard 4-note shape system. He wrote or compiled a number of sacred and secular song books and wrote "The Vocal Triad: Embracing Three Systems of Musical Notation." He died in his daughter's home at Shellman, Georgia.

Trip lightly over trouble,
Trip lightly over wrong,
We only make grief double
By dwelling on it long;
Why clasp woe's hand so tightly,
Why sigh o'er blossoms dead?
Why cling to forms unsightly,
Why not seek joy in stead?

*Trip lightly over trouble;
Trip lightly over wrong.*

Trip lightly over sorrow,
Though all the way be dark;
The sun may shine tomorrow,
And happily sing the lark.
Fair hopes have not departed,
Though roses may have fled;
Then never be downhearted,
But look for joy instead.

Trip lightly over sadness,
Stand not to rail at doom;
We've pearls to string of gladness,
On this side of the tomb;
While stars are nightly shining,
And heaven is overhead,
Encourage not repining,
But look for joy instead.
