Elihu S. Rice (1827-1912) was born in Genesee, New York. His father died when Elihu was 5 and the family moved to Logansport, Indiana. At 15 he started working as a clerk, then in a dry-goods house where he eventually became a partner in Merriam, Rice & Howes. He later bought out his partners to form E. S. Rice & Son. He also was President of the King Drill Company and Director of the First National Bank of Logansport. From his childhood, he had a great interest in music and studied music on his own. In 1848, he became director of a mixed voice glee club and formed a male quartet “The Rocky Mountain Glee Club.” The quartet achieved some fame for their participation in the 1856 presidential election campaign. He became director of the Logansport choral union and leader of the Logansport Baptist Church choir. He died in Logansport. He composed a number of anthems, hymns, part-songs and quartets. His pieces appeared in song books created for the music conventions held throughout the Mid-West.

TERMS OF USE

These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:

- please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.
- please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
