

Gather Ye Rosebuds

Bruno Huhn
(1871-1950)

Bruno Siegfried Huhn (1871–1950) was born in London, England, and studied piano and harmony. At age nineteen, he played at concerts at St. James Hall, England, and toured Spain, Italy, Egypt, India and Australia. He settled in New York City in his early twenties as an active teacher, conductor, pianist, organist, and composer. He was organist of the Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, and conducted numerous groups including the Orpheus Club, the Banks Glee Club, the Plymouth Institute Choral Club, and the Nylic Choral Society. His compositions include keyboard pieces, choral pieces, and songs.

Gather ye rosebuds while ye may,
Old Time is still a-flying:
And this same flower that smiles to-day
To-morrow will be dying.

The glorious lamp of heaven, the sun,
The higher he's a-getting,
The sooner will his race be run,
And nearer he's to setting.

That age is best which is the first,
When youth and blood are warmer:
But being spent, the worse, and worst
Times still succeed the former.

Then be not coy, but use your time,
And while ye may, go marry:
For having lost but once your prime
You may for ever tarry.

Robert Herrick (1591–1674)
