

Row the Boat Lightly

A. B. Morton
(1855-1921)

Alexander B. Morton (1855-1921) was born in Pennsylvania. He was the vocal music teacher in schools in Chartiers Township, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania and in Connellsville, Pennsylvania. He died in Connellsville.

Row the boat lightly, love, over the sea.
Twilight is falling, I'll hasten with thee
O'er the blue waters now sparkling with foam,
Evermore, dearest, to dwell in thy home.

Row the boat lightly, love, over the sea,
Daily and nightly I'll wander with thee.
On its clear bosom contented we'll roam,
Evermore, dearest, to dwell in thy home.

Brave is the heart of the fisherman's bride,
Though the wind fretteth the wind in its pride;
What though the storm hath encompassed the sea,
Clasping her treasure, Oh what careth she?

How the bark dashes from mountain to vale,
Tossed like a feather, the sport of the gale;
Now it is riven, together they go
To the still depths of the caverns below.

TERMS OF USE
These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:
please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.
please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
