Novello, Ewer and Company
(1886)

Berthold Tours (1838-1897) was born in Rotterdam, the Netherlands, son of organist Barthélemy Tours. He studied under his father, then at the Conservatoires of Brussels and Leipzig. He accompanied Prince George Galitzin to Russia and remained there for two years. He moved to London where he composed, taught violin and played with various orchestras including the Royal Italian Opera. He was organist of the Swiss Church, Holborn and in 1878 he became a musical adviser and editor with Novello and Company. With Novello, he arranged several works from the orchestral scores, including Beethoven's Mass in C, four of Schubert's Masses, Mendelssohn's Elijah, and Gounod's Redemption. His compositions include works for the piano and other instruments, and a large number of songs and part-songs. He also composed hymn tunes, anthems and services for the Anglican Church. He died in London.

When the tempest's rage is over,
And its noisy tumults cease,
Then the world from strife and turmoil
Finds release, sweet release!

Though on earth are cares and sorrows,
They in time to come will cease,
In the golden realms of heaven
All is peace, heavenly peace.

Edward Oxenford (1846-1929)

TERMS OF USE

These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:

- please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.
- please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
