

Look all around thee!

Frederick Westlake
(1840-1898)

Frederick Westlake (1840-1898) was born in Romsey, Hampshire, England. He trained at the Royal Academy of Music, studying under Walter Macfarren and George A. Macfarren. He was appointed to the piano faculty of the R.A.M., and was a member of the Philharmonic Society and the Society of Musicians. He published "The Popular hymn and tune book, for one, two, three and four voices." He died in Marylebone, London. His compositions include several Masses, hymns, piano pieces, organ pieces, songs, and part-songs.

Look all around thee! How the Spring advances!
New life is playing through the gay green trees;
See how, in yonder bower, the light leaf dances
To merry songsters in the quivering breeze!
How every blossom in the sunlight glances!
The winter frost to his dark cavern flees,
And earth, warm-wakened, feels through every vein
The kindly influence of the vernal rain.

Now silvery streamlets, from the mountains stealing,
Dance joyously the verdant vales along;
Cold fear no more the songster's voice is sealing;
Down in the thick dark grove is heard his song;
And, all their bright and lovely hues revealing,
A thousand plants the field and forest throng;
And light descendeth on the earth in showers,
While mingling rainbows play among the flowers.

Johann Ludwig Tieck (1773-1853)
